CHAIRPERSON'S MESSAGE

By Ms. Gloria Kabonga, Board Chairperson

> "We are now closer to achieving our goals than we have ever been before."

Welcoming you to our Annual General Meeting.

As we reflect on the past year, I am filled with gratitude and pride for what we have accomplished together. Our dedication to excellence and community engagement has been inspiring. This report highlights our journey, achievements, and the challenges we have overcome.

As we reflect on this year's journey, we celebrate our achievements and the resilience of our creative sector. Together, we have fostered an environment that nurtures collaboration and creativity, and we look forward to the continued progress that lies ahead, driven by our shared passion for growth and innovation.

While challenges still abound, I can assure you that the road ahead is filled with opportunities for growth of our industry. We are now closer to achieving our goals than we have ever been before and with your unwavering support, the renewed unity with our partners ZAM, we will strive to push boundaries and reach greater heights. Our collective efforts will drive us towards a more sustainable future.

IN MEMORIAM

We observe a moment of silence for all our colleagues who passed on since our last AGM, and all others who may have passed on without the information reaching the Secretariat.

Mr. Chali Bravo Mulalami

May their souls rest in peace.

Let us embrace the future with enthusiasm, the spirit of unity and collaboration that defines our organization, knowing that our collective efforts will shape the success of our mission and inspire the next generation of music creators in our nation.

Moving forward, we remain focused on growth and innovation. Together, we will explore new opportunities that align with our mission.

Thank you for your continued support and commitment.

May I now share a few highlights.

01

Licensing

The licensing department has continued to operate under a lot of challenges, especially with the ailing economy which has pushed compliance to its lowest.

To many of our licensees, load shedding has disturbed their operational capacity, forcing them to reduce their working hours. As such we have had to experience delays and, in most cases, complete refraining to pay for the copyright licence, citing poor overall business performance.

The department has further been confined to the CBD in its licensing activities and coverage owing to lack of adequate transportation. This challenge has limited the scope and efficiency of our licensing activities across the country.

While these obstacles have had an adverse impact on our collections under the year of review, I'm glad to report that as a team, we have intensified our efforts to address them and made several engagements with key stakeholders aimed at overcoming the long outstanding hurdles that have plagued us for too long.

Finance

Income for the year 2024/2025 stood at K1,083,459 as reported in the financial report. While this figure is not anywhere near our market potential, when you analyse collections for the past few years — K799,023 in 2021, K875,570 in 2022, and K1,516,916 in 2023 — you will no doubt appreciate the effort from the team in collecting and keeping us afloat.

COLLECTIONS BY YEAR (KWACHA)

Documentation & Distribution

The department has recorded notable strides in maintaining, improving and storing our metadata. We can now boast of leveraging available technology to attain efficiency in monitoring and capturing accurate usage data from media institutions that provide a basis for distributing what we collect.

All our processes, from registration to distribution, are now fully digitized and we are able to serve our esteemed members better and faster than before. I'm proud to inform you that the upgrade of our Documentation & Distribution software is complete, and our membership has significantly increased as a result.

Despite the highlighted challenges in our overall collections, the Secretariat distributed royalties to members amounting to K984,234.

04

Sensitization

ZAMCOPS has had an active share in disseminating copyright information to the general public at every given opportunity.

Partnering with strategic industry players like PACRA, NAC and PAAGZ, we featured on many fora, platforms, workshops and media engagements, and ran sensitization programmes to educate members on copyright and the current legislative status.

05

Legal

MEDIA HOUSES

Following the stringent measures taken by the Society to collect the monies owed by ZNBC, we have extended the same legal route to the other media houses that owe the Society colossal sums, engaging our lawyers to start taking legal action against them.

About 30 were served with demand letters, and a good number have started responding positively.

LEGISLATION

While we had felt we had done enough to get the review of the Copyright and Performance Rights Act No. 44 of 1994 and Amendment No. 25 of 2010 under way, we seriously lament the slow pace in amending the Act or formulating a statutory instrument. We are not slowing down in our push.

Continued overleaf →

> "All our processes, from registration to distribution, are now fully digitized."

The Push for a New Copyright Act

ZAMCOPS has partnered with PAAGZ, the lobbyist experts who have helped organize several key institutions and held symposiums and discussions to find quicker ways of pushing the Government for the urgent review of the Act.

Taking advantage of the Copyright Fund team from COSOMA, Malawi, that visited our country for the business summit, ZAMCOPS was able to spearhead engagements with key ministries — the Ministry of Youth, Sport and Arts; the Ministry of Commerce, Trade and Industry; and the Ministry of Technology and Science, where the team from Malawi and ourselves met the Minister to lobby for his support to speed up amending the Act, or to formulate a Statutory Instrument that would compel all music users to pay copyright royalties promptly and introduce the Private Copy Remuneration Levy (blank media levy) in our legislation.

All these efforts and initiatives require our collective minds, connections and influence to bring them to fruition.

This election period in our country presents enormous opportunities for us to engage the lawmakers, even the Head of State, and demand that they attend to our plight. Instead of handouts, this time around, we demand a new Copyright Act that adequately addresses these challenges.

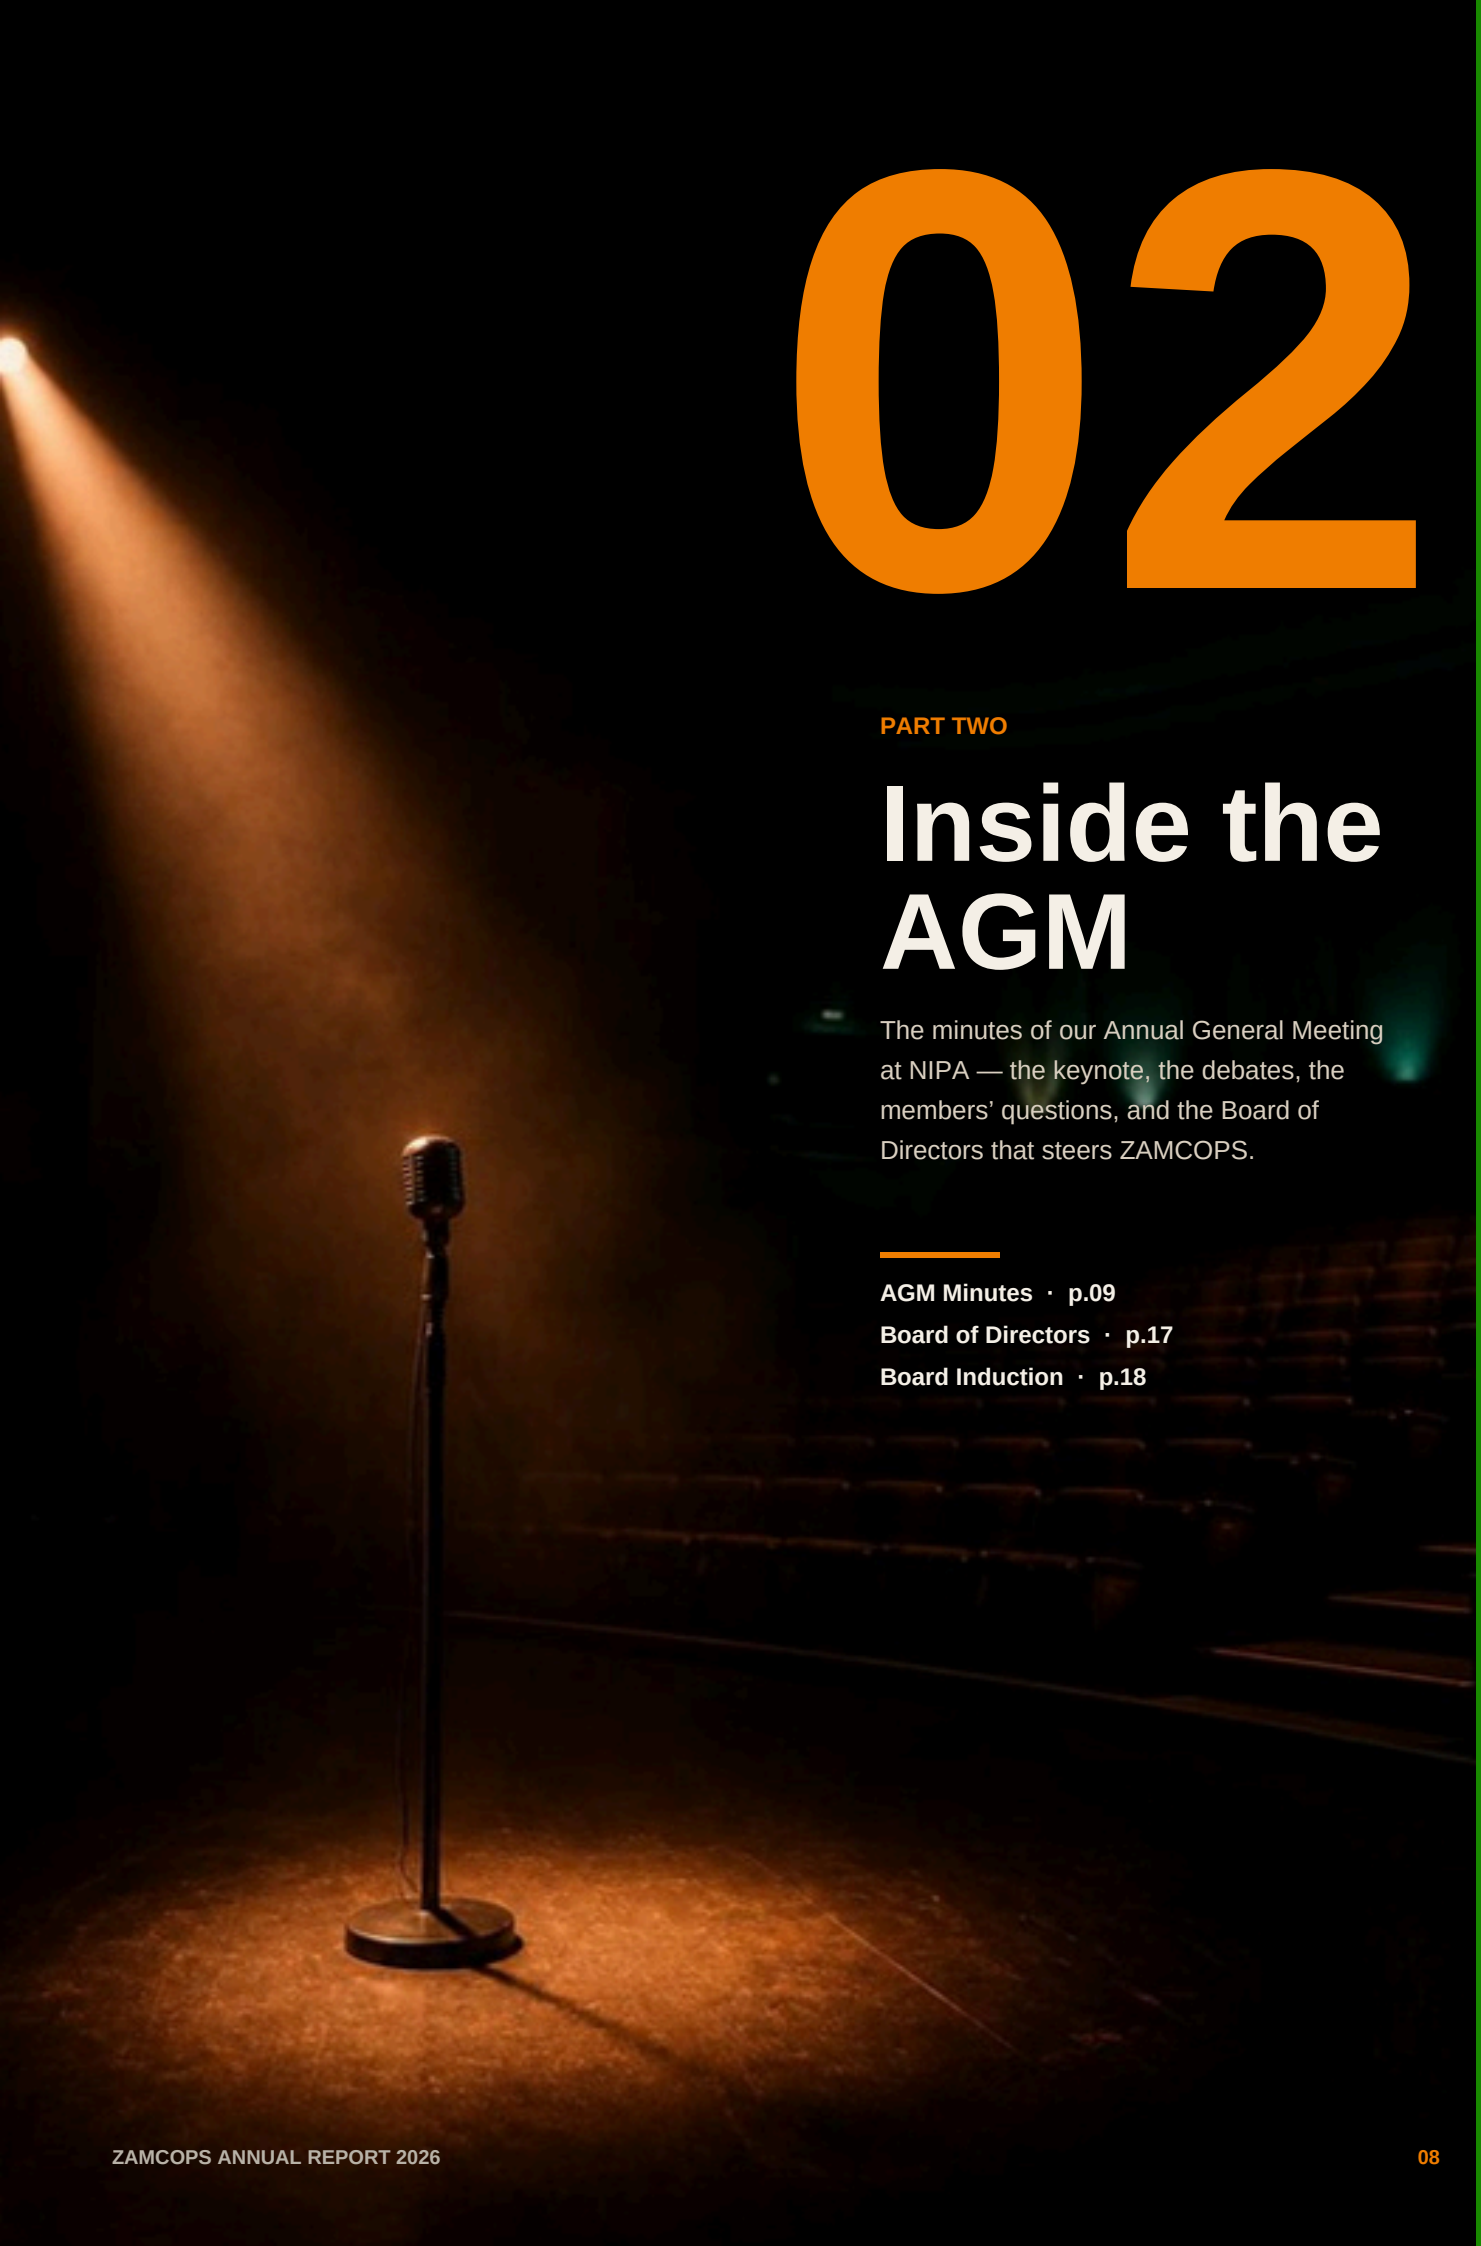

We also demand the inclusion of, or a statutory instrument for, the commencement of the blank media/private copying levy, which has the potential to economically boost the creative sector and the economy at large.

> “Instead of handouts, this time around, we demand a new Copyright Act.”

Conclusion

I would like to end by encouraging each artist and member of ZAMCOPS: while we are not yet experiencing the full benefits of our membership with the Society, please do not relent. Our creative sector holds immense potential to drive the growth of our institution, so that it is adequately equipped to collect from every place that uses our copyrighted works and compensate fairly for that use. Each one of us can contribute to the ongoing initiatives, and our collective input will eventually bear our desired results. I warmly thank you.

Ms. Gloria Kabonga — Board Chairperson

1. Opening

The Annual General Meeting of the Zambia Music Copyright Protection Society (ZAMCOPS) was called to order at 10:00 hours by Mr. Mirias Siamutondo, General Manager. Mr. Siamutondo welcomed all members and expressed appreciation for their attendance despite busy schedules. He acknowledged that many members in the industry have demanding commitments, but commended them for prioritising the AGM in order to review the organisation's annual performance.

Members were informed that the meeting would begin with the singing of the National Anthem, followed by an opening prayer led by Mr. Mateyo, after which the agenda would be presented.

The General Manager also informed members that the Guest of Honour, who was scheduled to officially open the meeting, had not yet arrived. It was therefore agreed that the meeting would proceed, and the Guest of Honour would deliver their address later in the programme.

Members were further informed about changes to the meeting arrangements. Unlike previous AGMs, where allowances were issued at the end, members received their allowances at the beginning of the meeting along with refreshments. Members were asked to share their views on this adjustment as part of efforts to improve future meetings.

2.5 CONFIRMATION OF PREVIOUS AGM MINUTES

The minutes of the previous 22nd Annual General Meeting, held on 15 November 2024, were read and confirmed as a true and accurate record upon a motion by Mr. Siamutondo, the General Manager.

3. Chairperson’s Welcoming Remarks and Highlights of the Annual Report

Mr. Danny Mwikisa welcomed all members and expressed appreciation for their attendance and continued support for the organisation. He stated that the report reflected the organisation’s journey, achievements and challenges over the past year. Despite various obstacles affecting the creative sector, ZAMCOPS had continued working towards supporting its members and strengthening the copyright management system. He emphasised the importance of unity, collaboration and innovation in ensuring sustainable growth for the creative industry. He also acknowledged the organisation’s renewed collaboration with partners such as ZAM (Zambia Association of Musicians) in advancing the interests of artists. The presentation was preceded by a moment of silence in honour of members who had passed away since the last AGM.

3.1 LICENSING

The Licensing Department operated under significant challenges during the review period, including:

- The declining economic environment, which reduced compliance and licence payments.
- Load-shedding, which curtailed operational hours and field activities.
- Restricted coverage due to lack of adequate transportation, limiting activities primarily to the Central Business District (CBD).

Despite these constraints, the Society intensified engagement with key stakeholders to address long-standing compliance challenges.

3.2 FINANCIAL PERFORMANCE

Income (2024/2025)	ZMW 1,083,459
Income (2022/2023)	ZMW 1,516,916
Income (2021/2022)	ZMW 875,500
Income (2020/2021)	ZMW 799,023
Royalties Distributed (2024/2025)	ZMW 984,234

While income for the current year declined compared to the prior year, the overall trend over five years demonstrates upward momentum despite operational challenges.

3.3 SENSITIZATION AND PARTNERSHIPS

ZAMCOPS actively disseminated copyright information through partnerships with PACRA, NAC, and other forums, workshops, media engagements, and ministry-led programs.

3.4 DOCUMENTATION AND DISTRIBUTION

The documentation and distribution software upgrade was completed. The Society's processes are now fully digitized, enabling more efficient monitoring, data capture, and royalty distribution. Membership has increased significantly as a result.

3.7 IBA PARTNERSHIP

ZAMCOPS noted an ongoing positive engagement with the Independent Broadcasting Authority (IBA), which was expected to yield improved compliance from radio and television licensees.

3.5 LEGAL ACTION AGAINST NON-COMPLIANT MEDIA HOUSES

Following legal action against ZNBC, demand letters were served to approximately 30 additional non-compliant media houses. Most recipients responded positively following the notices.

3.6 LEGISLATION

ZAMCOPS continued to advocate for the review of the Copyright and Performance Rights Act No. 44 of 1994 (as amended by Act No. 25 of 2010). Efforts included:

- Engaging the Ministry of Youth, Sport and Art; Ministry of Commerce, Trade and Industry; and Ministry of Technology and Science.
- Hosting delegations from partner organizations including COSOMA (Malawi) to lobby for expedited legislative reform.
- Advocating for the introduction of a blank media levy/private copy remuneration mechanism on imported devices (mobile phones, computers, CDs, etc.).

4. Members' Discussion, Questions and Responses

4.1 CLUBS AND OTHER MUSIC USERS – KALALUKA KAINGU

Mr. Kaingu raised concerns about the collection of royalties from clubs, jukeboxes, and online platforms, noting that these venues are significant consumers of music.

Response: ZAMCOPS confirmed that it licenses clubs and similar establishments. However, enforcement is severely hampered by the absence of adequate provisions in the current Copyright Act. Legal action is costly and inefficient on a case-by-case basis. The amendment of the Copyright Act remains the primary vehicle for enforcing compliance across all music users.

4.2 SENSITIZATION AND MEMBER MOBILISATION – JULIET

A member raised concerns about insufficient communication and low attendance at the AGM. She also queried the discrepancy in royalty distribution, with some members having received royalties and others not.

Response: Management acknowledged the communication challenge and undertook to improve outreach mechanisms. On royalties, members were reminded that payments are email-based and require a registered email address. Members were encouraged to update their contact details with the Secretariat. A membership mobile application is under development.

4.3 PIRACY – ERICK CHULU

Mr. Chulu asked about the status of ZAMCOPS' efforts against piracy.

Response: Piracy falls outside ZAMCOPS' direct jurisdiction. The matter is primarily the domain of the Zambia Association of Musicians (ZAM), in cooperation with the Zambia Police Service's dedicated anti-piracy unit.

4.4 DIGITAL ACCESS AND MEMBER ONLINE SERVICES

A member raised the need for digital self-service capabilities, including access to personal statements and royalty history via the ZAMCOPS website or a mobile application.

Response: ZAMCOPS confirmed that online registration is now available. A membership app enabling members to check royalties, register songs, and access statements is currently under development and will be announced in due course.

4.5 NKWASHI PROJECT – MONICA KASODE

A member queried why the 2025 AGM was not held at the ZAMCOPS Nkwashi property as previously indicated.

Response: The decision to revert to the current venue was primarily driven by cost. The Society prioritised royalty distribution over the additional expenditure that hosting at Nkwashi would have entailed. Progress on the Nkwashi development project is ongoing and the Society is awaiting financial commitments from partners before proceeding in full.

4.6 ROYALTY DISTRIBUTION PROCESS – BEN BETO

A member expressed concern about the complexity of the process for receiving royalties and the need to follow up extensively with ZAMCOPS staff.

Response: Management acknowledged the inconvenience caused by the current transitional distribution system and appealed for members' patience as the automated system is refined. A future app will allow seamless access to statements and royalties without manual follow-up.

4.7 BRANCH NETWORK AND PROVINCIAL RADIO COVERAGE – IMALE MPANDE

A member from Southern Province raised concerns about the limited number of radio stations being licensed in provinces, and the lack of ZAMCOPS branches outside Lusaka.

Response: The Society previously maintained offices in Kitwe and Livingstone but closed them due to high operational costs relative to collections. The establishment of provincial branches is contingent on increased revenue, which in turn depends on the amendment of the Copyright Act. ZAMCOPS acknowledged that many provincial radio stations remain non-compliant and reiterated that the IBA partnership is intended to address this.

4.8 ROYALTY CALCULATION METHODOLOGY – FRANCK LOMBE

Mr. Lombe asked how the amount payable to each artist is determined.

Response: Royalties are calculated on the basis of the number of airplays per radio station. Each licensed station provides a playlist log. The royalties collected from that station are divided proportionally according to the number of plays per registered song. Members were reminded that only registered and updated songs qualify for distribution.

4.9 COPYRIGHT ACT AMENDMENT TIMELINE

A member requested a specific timeline for the amendment of the Copyright Act.

Response: The draft bill with all stakeholder submissions is currently before the relevant government ministry. ZAMCOPS urged members to leverage the upcoming election period to pressure Members of Parliament and political leaders to expedite passage of the new Copyright Act. Collective advocacy was identified as the most effective tool available.

4.10 WORKSHOPS AND CAPACITY BUILDING – DAVID MWALE

Mr. Mwale proposed that ZAMCOPS introduce regular artist education workshops across provinces, covering professional conduct, copyright, royalties, and industry standards. He highlighted that inappropriate language in songs reduces radio airplay and consequently royalty earnings.

Response: Management thanked Mr. Mwale for the suggestion and committed to working on a structured workshop program.

5. Presentation by the Independent Broadcasting Authority (IBA)

Mr. Chileshe of the IBA delivered a presentation on the IBA's mandate and its partnership with ZAMCOPS. Key points included:

- The IBA is established under the IBA Act No. 17 of 2002 (as amended in 2010 and 2017), and regulates all radio and television broadcasting services in Zambia.
- The IBA's functions include: licensing broadcasters, developing and enforcing standards, receiving public complaints, and administering the TV levy on behalf of ZNBC.
- Compliance enforcement is carried out through on-site inspections and ongoing monitoring of broadcast content. Non-compliant stations may be suspended or have their licenses cancelled.
- Ethical content standards apply: radio stations are obligated to screen songs for content before broadcast. Stations risk IBA sanctions for airing material with offensive language or messaging.
- The IBA and ZAMCOPS have been in active discussions to establish a framework for ensuring broadcasting stations comply with royalty payment obligations. Structured engagements are ongoing.
- The current IBA Act does not extend to social media or digital streaming platforms. However, the new draft bill proposes to include online broadcasting. Social media content remains outside IBA jurisdiction and is addressed by cyber laws.

Alexandra: Raised concern that expenses exceed income, and questioned cost controls. She recommended that ZAMCOPS pursue ownership of premises to eliminate rental expenditure and reduce overhead costs.

Response: Management acknowledged the financial pressure and noted that the Nkwashi property project is in progress as a long-term solution. Cost controls are being reviewed.

6.4 FINANCIAL QUESTIONS FROM MEMBERS (CONTINUED)

Frances: Asked about the progress of the proposed blank media levy bill previously submitted to Parliament.

Response: Submissions are with the relevant ministry. ZAMCOPS continues to lobby for fast-tracked passage.

Daniel Phiri: Enquired about the status of the music monitoring software mentioned at the previous AGM.

Response: The monitoring system has been acquired and is fully operational, enabling ZAMCOPS to capture radio station playlists. The challenge of non-compliant stations remains, pending IBA-facilitated enforcement.

7. Address by the Guest of Honour

Madam Maureen Lilanda, Board Chairperson of the National Arts Council (NAC), addressed the meeting. Key points from her address included:

- She commended ZAMCOPS members for their attendance and emphasised the importance of the arts to national social and economic development.
- She underscored the need for a strong legal framework to enforce intellectual property rights and ensure meaningful royalty collection.
- She announced that the National Arts Council Act is currently under review and invited artists to provide input during the public consultation process.
- She pledged NAC's commitment to working with ZAMCOPS and ZAM to advance the amendment of the Copyright and Performance Rights Act.
- She called on ZAMCOPS management and the Board to explore deeper regional and global collaborations within the collective management ecosystem, and to subscribe to relevant international treaties.

8. Address by the ZAM President – Mr. Brian Bwembya

Mr. Brian Bwembya, President of the Zambia Association of Musicians (ZAM), addressed the meeting. Key highlights included:

- He emphasised the importance of artist metadata, including the IPI Number, Universal Product Code (UPC), International Standard Recording Code (ISRC), and YouTube Content ID.
- He shared that ZAMCOPS is the source of IPI numbers for Zambian composers, and encouraged all members to request and record their IPI numbers.
- He narrated how metadata enabled international royalty tracking, using a personal example of earning royalties from Scandinavian airplay after obtaining his IPI number.
- He reported that ZAM submitted approximately six Zambian artists for consideration at the 2024 Grammy Awards, noting that metadata gaps were the primary obstacle to broader participation.
- He encouraged veteran artists to monetize their back catalogues through digital distribution platforms such as Distrokid, Tune Core, and CD Baby.
- He reinforced the importance of strengthening ZAMCOPS as the Society's foundational institution, rather than affiliating with foreign copyright societies.

9. Clarification: Roles of ZAMCOPS and ZAM

Following a request from members, both the ZAMCOPS Chairperson and the ZAM President clarified the distinction between the two organisations:

ZAMCOPS

Collects and distributes royalties; protects intellectual property rights of registered composers and music creators. Falls under the Ministry of Commerce, Trade and Industry.

ZAM (ZAMBIA ASSOCIATION OF MUSICIANS)

Advocates for the general interests and welfare of musicians, DJs, promoters, and industry players. Registered under the National Arts Council Act. Deals with piracy matters in conjunction with law enforcement.

10. Other Business and Suggestions

- Mr. James Sakapula suggested the revival of an industry magazine for artists across the country.
- Mr. Charles Chaunda requested a program to support and motivate veteran artists.
- A member proposed ZAMCOPS explore satellite service points in high-footfall locations such as shopping malls.
- Board member Mr. James Banda (Redlinso) advised members to always submit music directly to radio station content managers (not individual DJs) to ensure inclusion on official log sheets submitted to ZAMCOPS.
- He also encouraged members to register for their international artist identity numbers with ZAMCOPS.

MATHEW TEMBO

Musician, scholar and ZAMCOPS member since 1999.

Every song tells a story, and every story deserves to be protected.

Dr Mathew Tembo is a musician and scholar whose music career began in 1995 when he studied Music Education at Evelyn Hone College in Lusaka. He later earned a Bachelor's degree in Music Education from the University of Zambia, a Master's in Music Performance from Northern Illinois University, and a PhD in Ethnomusicology from the University of Pittsburgh. He is a lecturer and music researcher at Copperbelt University and has toured Europe, Africa and the United States for concerts, talks and workshops.

Tembo has been a ZAMCOPS member since 21 April 1999 and has registered every album he has produced with the Society. He joined to protect his work against unauthorised copying, support royalty collection and help preserve Zambian music.

WHY COPYRIGHT REGISTRATION MATTERS

Tembo says copyright registration helps protect artists' intellectual property and enables them to earn royalties when their works are used on radio, television and other media. Copyright preserves authenticity and connects creative works to their rightful creators.

For music creators, understanding songwriting, composition and performance rights is essential. Registering works and maintaining accurate creator information helps safeguard ownership and supports recognition and remuneration.

BUILDING A CREATIVE LEGACY

Tembo's journey reflects the value of combining musical practice with scholarship and copyright awareness. His experience shows how registering works with ZAMCOPS can help protect creative output, support royalty collection and preserve an archive of Zambian music.

PART 04 · FROM THE SECRETARIAT

SECRETARIAT'S CORNER

Hello to all our valued members and prospective members of ZAMCOPS.
Today, we want to briefly address another important aspect of our registration for ZAMCOPS Membership for both Groups and Bands.
This message is intended to update all members and others yet to apply for membership and help everyone understand the membership process, the registration criteria for both individually and as a group, and the responsibility of the group representative.
Who Can Be a member?
ZAMCOPS was established following the enactment of the Copyright and Performance Rights Act of 1994 by composers, authors and publishers of Music. These three categories of artists are therefore the ones eligible for membership with ZAMCOPS.
Who is a Composer, Author or Publisher of Music?
Composer: One who creates the music (melody) with or without the lyrics(words)
Author/Lyricist: The one who writes the words of the song.
Publisher: An individual or company that signs a legal publishing contract with the owner of the musical works to sponsor the recording or promotion, marketing or distribution to the general public.
Individual Registration is Essential: While groups can register in their respective capacity as a group or band, it's encouraged that every composer and author or publisher also register individually for membership so they can receive royalties from their contribution in the group or bands musical works that are registered with ZAMCOPS. Remember, your creative work deserves recognition and compensation!
Group Membership and the Representative Role
For those in bands or groups, please ensure that you choose as your representative someone who is eligible for membership, i.e.; a composer, author or publisher ant that person will submit a Group Membership Application Form and handle all official dealings with us including attending AGMs on behalf of the Group or Band.
·Authorization Letter: Ensure your representative has a formal authorization letter from all group members.
·Required Documentation: Don't forget to include copies of all composers' National Registration Cards and individual authorizations. This ensures accurate payment or distribution to the rightful owner's creators.
The Importance of Registering Group Works and Individual Composers
Registering your works is essential for securing income from music usage. It guarantees that your creative efforts are compensated fairly.

WHO CAN JOIN

Composers, authors and publishers of music — as individuals, and as groups or bands.
